ABOUT ME

I'm a South African freelance illustrator. I paint both digitally and traditionally. When I'm not working, I read fantasy and science fiction novels or watch films. I also like playing video games, mostly RPGs or strategy based games and have an interest in astronomy.

WORK EXPERIENCE

// 2012 - 2014

I worked as a junior graphic designer for That's it Communications, a digital design agency.

I was tasked to create storyboards, animations, video editing, logo design, social media branding, campaign strategies, pitches to clients, basic HTML and CSS changes to websites, animation of web banners, website design, print media design such as flyers, booklets, business cards, brochures, magazines, posters, invites, infographics, presentations and mailers.

// 2015 - 2017

I worked as a freelancer for two companies and a few individuals. With Happy Media, I created logos, corporate identities, storyboards, billboards, mailers, ui designs for radio station's apps, I also created animations and edited trailers.

I also worked for a Zambian ecommerce company, 360Deals, where I was responsible for their animations, social media graphics as well as their print media.
