ABOUT ME

I'm a freelance illustrator and graphic designer based in South Africa. My passion is story telling.

WORK EXPERIENCE

// 2012 - 2014

I worked as a junior graphic designer for That's it Communications, a digital design agency.

I was tasked to create storyboards, animations, video editing, logo design, social media branding, campaign strategies, pitches to clients, basic HTML and CSS changes to websites, animation of web banners, website design, print media design such as flyers, booklets, business cards, brochures, magazines, posters, invites, infographics, presentations and mailers.

// 2015 - present

During this time I worked as a freelancer for three companies and a few individuals. For Happy Media, I created logos, corporate identities, storyboards, billboards, mailers, logo animations and promo trailers.

360Deals, I was responsible for their animations, social media graphics as well as their print media.

For Prins Designs I was tasked to create illustrations and infographics.

RECOMMENDATION

Justine is one of those people that you can't help but enjoy working with: she's diligent and intelligent; she has a natural talent for design, producing high quality work; she gives careful thought and planning to every project; and she reliably produces wonderful results time after time. Justine is also a lovely colleague to have in the office - she is genuine, helpful, hardworking, solution-driven, friendly and caring towards her fellow colleagues. She is an absolute asset to any team and I would recommend her without any hesitation.
