

Vadim Motov

Graphic Designer | Digital Artist

Introduction

Since my early teens I have a strong passion for visual aesthetics. While devoting my time to various hobbies such as building legos, 3D modeling, kit-bashing, drawing, painting, gaming and photography, I decided to focus my professional career on graphic design and digital art.

Through self-education, freelance commissions, internships, contests and personal projects I gained know-how in a wide range of additional creative disciplines like concept art, storyboards, video compositing, photo editing, automotive design, matte painting, show-booth design, print and vector animation.

In a nutshell I am not a specialist but a versatile jack of many trades. I get valued for being well structured while achieving excellent results with a time-efficient workflow.
